

Story Telling

Mankind has, for centuries, benefited from the telling and hearing of stories. Bonfires and front porches have been the stage for many stories and the forging of relationships. Make connections with your spouse, family, friends, church and neighborhood by telling stories.

Task:

1. Use the personal story guide resource to organize your thoughts regarding your personal story.
2. Share with your spouse your story.
3. Discuss how you might use this idea to create a culture of fellowship in your family, church or neighborhood.
